Privacy Policy

The Dubbo Golf Club (DGC) is required to conform to the National Privacy Principles (NPP) as set out in the Privacy Act 1988.

The NPP governs the way organisations collect, use, disclose and secure information about you. The NPP also permits you access to the information held by organisations about you in order to correct or update if it is not accurate.

The personal information collected and maintained by DGC for every one of our members includes your name, address, date of birth, contact details, and information specific to , and required for, the service that we provide to members.

Information may be held on behalf of DGC by outside organisations in order to provide services to us (DGC). An example of this is the Golfink handicapping system run under the guidance of Golf Australia, which has guaranteed that such information will not be disclosed to any third party.

DGC is committed to safeguarding personal information provided by members, visitors and staff. We will never disclose any personal information unless we believe there is a threat to life, health or safety.
